Kii Audio put DACs, DSP and Class D amplifiers into some of the most advanced loudspeakers on the market and the result is quite astonishing. The price might look high but when you consider that all you need to get genuinely high end sound is a digital or analogue source they start to look like fabulous value. With adjustable EQ to suit room and taste the Kii Three BXT system is incredibly flexible and delivers phenomenally high resolution, being active it can also produce high volume without effort and has bass that will get the furniture jumping. They are not just a technical tour de force either, the music they deliver is totally captivating.
